The Ghazi Attack was released for public viewing at Dreamworld Mall located in Lahore, Pakistan on Friday December 13, 2017. This premiere was organized by the Presenters Network and was attended by almost 10,000 spectators including famous actors and actresses. The film opened to a packed house with many people standing throughout the entire screening. After that, the film received an extremely positive response from viewers who were impressed with the quality of the film as well as its unique story line. The film managed to collect a sum of Rs 1.16 million on its opening day which is the best opening day collection for any Pakistani film this year so far. The film benefited greatly from the fact that it was released after a long gap of one month and there were no other films released during this period; however, it was the only film showing at cinemas in Pakistan for two weeks straight. The theater offered free popcorn to all patrons which increased the number of viewers for this film even further. The Ghazi Attack has received positive reviews from critics but has also faced criticism due to its inaccurate portrayal of events based on an actual submarine which sank in 1971. The movie has been nominated for twelve Lux Style Awards and is also nominated for the "Best Film" award. A sequel to the film has already been confirmed and is scheduled to be released in 2018.
